
Junior Valuation Specialist || Junior Financial Analyst

due diligence. Our team is focused on continuous development and efficient work.

Our Requirements:

- Advanced knowledge of MS Office
- Basic understanding of valuation theory
- Very good knowledge of accounting
- Basic knowledge of financial market regulations
- Availability for a minimum of 30 hours per week
- Fluency in English, including financial terminology

Who Are We Looking For? You are a student of economics, finance, or accounting, with some initial analytical work experience in a similar field. You are interested in the financial market and its legal aspects, continuously seeking knowledge independently, and able to self-improve. You are systematic, meticulous, and thrive in analytical work.

What Will Your Responsibilities Include?

- Creating company valuations
- Writing valuation reports
- Periodic valuation of funds
- Assisting in ad-hoc analyses
- Conducting effective information research
- Writing educational materials

Your work will involve tasks/projects in the field of valuations, such as performing company valuations and periodic fund valuations using various methods. You will also be involved in the projects we undertake.

What We Offer:

- Remote work
- Possibility to work within the EU
- Order contract
- Access to training/courses related to your work area
- Team-building meetings

If you meet our criteria and want to become part of our team, please attach your CV and cover letter to your application.